LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

Though our department is looking forward to 2020 with great anticipation, I can’t help but reflect on the notable programs and achievements that made our fall recreation season so memorable. We recently celebrated the 69th anniversary of Roswell’s annual Francis McGahee Youth Day Parade, and I continue to be overwhelmed by our community’s enthusiasm as we recognized and celebrated our future leaders! A special thank you to all our volunteer float builders, volunteer chaperones, candy chasers and the City staff who make this one-of-a-kind celebration possible.

In the fall, we also celebrated the opening of our Old Mill Park Phase III restoration project—if you have not yet visited this boardwalk, I encourage you to venture out with friends or family and check out the history of our Roswell community right along Vickery Creek. Thank you to our Historical Society for assisting with our interpretive signs, and to our design and construction teams for creating a wonderful new place to engage in our community’s history while enjoying the beauty of our city.

Thank you for supporting our efforts to enrich and beautify Roswell. We look forward to ringing in the New Year with you!

Jeff Leatherman,
Director of Roswell Recreation, Parks, Historic & Cultural Affairs

MIMOSA HALL & GARDENS

Mimosa Hall & Gardens is an antebellum home and estate originally built for John Dunwody, located adjacent to Bulloch Hall. Dunwody was a shareholder in the original Roswell Manufacturing Company and patriarch of one of Roswell’s founding families. A fire caused significant damage to the original home soon after construction and was rebuilt in 1847 with brick walls as seen today.

One can still see the outlines and remains of historic gardens. These include a sunken garden, a reflecting pool, a weeping tree garden, a rose garden, and a cutting garden. The home has retained its historical character and charm, making it a tremendous addition to the City’s award-winning Recreation, Parks, Historic and Cultural Affairs Department. The property is currently under development and open by appointment or rental only.

EXHIBIT: BASKETS FROM THE SMITH FAMILY COLLECTION
Three generations of the Smith family who lived on the site for over 150 years collected more than 200 baskets. During the 19th century, baskets were both popular and practical containers, used to carry and store a variety of items, much as we use Tupper Ware today. This collection includes imported Chinese-made baskets, Cherokee baskets, coiled-grass baskets, home-made Appalachian baskets, decorative fancy baskets, and Georgia Market baskets.

Dates and Time: Closes March 31; Displayed inside Smith House and viewable during hourly tour schedule only.
Location: Smith Plantation Exhibit Room
Fees: Included in regular house tour admission

EXHIBIT: BEHIND THE “BIG HOUSE”
The “big house,” especially the white-columned mansion as popularized by Hollywood, is the most prominent symbol of the antebellum southern plantation. This exhibit illuminates the hard work of those forced to keep a plantation running, day-to-day, as seen through the collective buildings and artifacts. The enslaved processed and prepared food, tended livestock, made soap and candles, handled laundry, among many other daily duties. Objects from the Smith Family Collection demonstrate the wide range of activities that took place on the site, highlighting agricultural rural life in 19th century north Georgia. The accompanying series of three lectures hosted by site coordinator and the volunteer curator will explore and discuss various elements of the exhibit.

Dates and Time: Viewable during normal operating hours – permanent exhibit.
Location: Smith Barn Outbuilding
Fees: Free, house tour admission not included.
Lectures: 11:00 a.m. on March 13, April 10, May 8
